

Dear transplant nurse,

Can you just imagine being in the midst of people who selflessly take care of your every need and treat you as if you were a very special part of a group of friends or family? Well that is how I was treated by the transplant nurses at Loma Linda September 27th 2007. That was the day I received a liver transplant. You get to know a bit about all of them. They come from different cultures and backgrounds but all have a common denominator. They all truly care! My love goes out to all of you who made me feel safe and protected both physically and emotionally. How fulfilling it must be to start everyday knowing you are going to have a positive impact on someone's life.

*Thanks again to all of you.
Sincerely,*

Pat Jennings
