

Dear transplant nurse,

I think the best way to open this letter to all of the Transplant Nurses is to say "THANK YOU" I know there were a lot of times we did not make it easy for you. How do I know this? Because I was lucky enough to get two Heart Transplants and I know I complained then, but all of you always did your best to help me when I needed it. I am out over twenty years now and even when I go for my normal check-ups the first words I hear from all of you is, How are you, do you feel good. I know at that point in time I most likely feel better than you do, because you have been helping other Transplant people all day and you are extremely tired, but you are still there with a helping hand. We do over the years build a relationship with all of you and if we forget to say Thank You, rest assure we will say it on the way home.

There are a lot of us who will always in our Hearts and minds know just how much work it takes for all of you to keep up with all of the people you see every day. I hope all of you, from Denise in the Cat Lab to Joann who has been taking blood from me for over twenty years and she must have x-ray vision because she always gets it the first. To all of you who give above and beyond, trust me, we THANK-YOU and ask you to please keep doing it because we NEED all of you.....

God bless all of you
ALL my best and Thanks
