Dear transplant nurse,

I live in a town outside of Portland Oregon and got my kidney transplant three years ago at Oregon Health Sciences University Hospital, and yes, the nurses deserve a big thank you.

As all transplant patients know, the early days after receiving an organ are great fun with the huge doses of immune suppression you receive, so those nurses are right there to help you through all these side effects and keep the patient calm.

Sincerely,

Warren Parrish
